Where iam today?

I am a UI/UX Designer with a deep passion for:

>> Problem-solving

>> Creating User-Centric design

>> Compelling Visual Storytelling.

I am driven by curiosity, empathy, and my desire to develop simple, intuitive, and beautiful experiences. You can count on me when it comes to managing a team of designers, cultivating a data-centric design culture, stepping out of the building and getting to know the user.

How did i get here?

I always did what I loved. Designing is clearly my cup of tea!

I found UI/UX Design to be the field that awesomely combines the need for the above skills.

Any business caring about its user's needs would want a person to ideally have the problem-solving skills combining Art, Entrepreneurship and Research.

And thus, I naturally ended up being a UI/UX Designer.

Not only design I know to code in HTML, CSS languages.
